

What if we told you that in Just One Day's time,
over 10,000 innocent lives could be saved
by just one pledge?

In U.S. animal shelters, One Day represents 10,411 lives needlessly lost when perfectly healthy animals are euthanized. June 11 will give homeless companion animals one more day to find their loving, forever family, as shelters around the country put down their euthanasia equipment and focus their time, energy, and attention on using and exploring alternative ways of finding homes for the animals in their care. Please come and show your support for ending the needless deaths of so many innocent dogs and cats.
